

200 PUPILS FROM 11 HIGH SCHOOLS IN BUCKS COUNTY PARTICIPATE IN MUSIC FESTIVAL AT BRISTOL HIGH

Welcome Extended by Superintendent of Bristol Schools Warren P. Snyder — Musical Directors from Participating Schools Take Turns in Directing the Chorus, Instrumental and Solo Numbers.

With nearly 200 pupils from 11 high schools in Bucks County participating, a fine program was given last evening at a music festival featuring a chorus of 130 and an orchestra of 75 in Bristol high school auditorium. The chorus was seated upon the stage and the orchestra members occupied chairs on the main floor. The balance of the auditorium was filled to capacity with the portable seats along the sidewalks and these were also fully occupied.

The choral numbers, the choruses and the solo along with the instrumental selections, were enthusiastically applauded. Each of the musical directors from the participating schools took a turn in directing, and each capably brought out the musical ability of the musicians.

In opening the program precisely at eight o'clock, Paul Oberholzer, president of the Bucks County Musical Educators Association, expressed appreciation to the hosts—Bristol high school and others, who had aided in the arrangements. A dinner had been served by the Bristol Mothers Association.

A cordial welcome was extended by Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of Bristol schools, who spoke of the inclement weather and then the abatement in the storm which permitted such a large audience to attend. "This is an evening of music and not speechmaking," said Mr. Snyder.

THE WAR

By Lee Ferrero

INS War Correspondent
TOKYO, Mar. 31—(INS)—American tanks crashed across the 38th parallel on Korea's western front today.

The crossing—made at 10:21 a. m. (6:21 p. m. Friday EST)—was part of a coordinated United Nations drive designed to prevent the enemy forces from throwing their mounting strength into an effective counter-offensive.

The American task forces breached the parallel between democratic South and communist North Korea on the main Uijongbu-Yonchon road. Uijongbu lies 11 miles north of Seoul and 16 miles below the political boundary.

To the east on the central Korean front, other American troops captured the town of Chango and moved north toward Kumhwa, the main Chinese communist supply base for seven enemy armies massed near Parallel 38 in the center of the peninsula.

MUCH OF INTEREST IS CLOSE AT HAND

50 Bucks County Teachers Hear Dr. J. Conrad Seegers

SELF EVALUATION

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 31—"All of us, including the teachers, pay too little attention to what is in our back-yards." This was a statement made by Dr. J. Conrad Seegers, Columbia University Teachers College dean, when he addressed 50 teachers recently, which group represented Bucks County School Study Council of Primary and Secondary School Teachers.

Dr. Seegers declared there isn't a school anywhere that is in such a vacuum that there isn't something of interest 100 feet away from the school's doorstep.

He urged the women and men to ask themselves "What is a good elementary school? Am I a good elementary school teacher? Do we have a good elementary school?"

Dr. J. Edward Smith, Doylestown school supervising principal, who said the study council was planned to make a cooperative study of school problems, presented Dr. Seegers.

Touching on the impact of television on students, Dr. Seegers, reminded the teachers that the printing press revolutionized the world. Radio aided political demagogues—Hitler and Mussolini—to sway millions.

Dr. Seegers, who was brought here by Dr. Ross L. Neagley, Temple University educator, said the

Morrisville Plant Is Included in Expansion

MORRISVILLE, Mar. 31—A $9,000,000 production expansion program to be completed by the end of 1952 is planned by the Victor Chemical Works. The Morrisville plant will be included. The company's phosphorus and phosphate production will be increased by more than 66 per cent.

An announcement from Chicago headquarters said the expansion was required to meet increasing demands for phosphorus products for synthetic detergents and in the food industry.

Edgar Conant, local plant superintendent, said he could not reveal details of plans here, but they would involve addition of considerable expensive machinery. Not much building construction will be necessary.

The local plant and those at Chicago Heights and Nashville soon will be absorbing additional output of phosphorus from company deposits in Montana.

A large electric furnace, recently completed at the Silver Bow, Mont., plant, now is producing elemental phosphorus in considerable quantities. A second furnace will be built.

The company is planning a special stockholders meeting soon to consider additional capital for the expansion, a two-for-one common stock split and issuance of $5,000,000 of convertible second preferred stock.

Net current assets of the company at the end of 1950 were $9,958,270, net sales, $33,787,124 and net profit, after all charges, $3,754,510.

"This business of shopping has so many ramifications," was one of the opening remarks of the guest, who went on to give "pointers" to those who would be "wise shoppers." Three rules to guide toward this end were given: 1. "know what you want"; 2. "seek information at the time of the sale"; 3. "educate yourself."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Twelve balky witnesses, including Frank Costello, were cited for contempt by the Senate for their failure to answer fully questions put to them before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. The State Tax Commission filed tax warrants for $715,152 against Frank Erickson, one of the twelve held in contempt. The five-man State Crime Commission will get $250,000 for its first year of inquiry into crime in New York.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay resigned as special assistant to Defense Mobilizer Wilson.

In Korea, Chinese Communist forces counter-attacked United Nations troops plodding toward the Thirty-eighth Parallel. Some United Nations patrols were reported "within sight" of the boundary. According to intelligence reports, the Chinese have massed north of that strategic line eight army corps that might be used for a possible counter-offensive.

The State Department was reported in London to be favorably disposed toward a British proposal that the main United Nations forces stop, at least for the time being, along the Thirty-eighth Parallel. London was worried, however, about the reaction of the White House, the Pentagon and General MacArthur to the British proposal.

The South Korean Government, confronted with a depleted treasury and a serious inflation, was demobilizing part of its army because it could not equip and feed the men.

Because of the reluctance of the British Government to reduce the margins between duties imposed on United States and Commonwealth products, the negotiations between Washington and London for a new long-term trade agreement have broken down.

The Big Four deputies, conferring on an agenda for a possible meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, appeared to be more seriously deadlocked than ever as a result of new Soviet proposals. Deputy Foreign Minister Gromyko suggested that the agenda should include items that would bring up discussions of the North Atlantic Treaty, United States military bases in Europe and elimination of fascism in Germany, Austria and Italy.

President Auriol of France pledged French vigilance against any aggression, but expressed the hope that vowed peace would be attained through international cooperation.

Common defense against "the aggressive activities of international communism" was urged in a declaration adopted in principle by the foreign ministers of the American republics.

"... AND HE RODE OFF IN ALL DIRECTIONS."

No wonder the American people don't know where they are headed, can't understand where they are situated, and have come not merely to distrust but to disregard the Truman spokesmen!

Consider the newspaper front pages of a single day this week—Wednesday.

Here are the contradictory, inconsistent, self-refuting news stories of that single day—in many cases displayed side by side.

First: Charles E. Wilson, Defense Mobilizer, bragged of a speed-up of defense production which he said was enough to "frighten" any enemy.

Second: Secretary of Defense Marshall announced that we are much worse off than we were last November (when we began flying helter-skelter from the Chinese Communists in Korea).

Third: The tug-of-war between General MacArthur, who wants to handle the Korean fighting the way he believes it should be done, and the State Department, which wants to be able to claim credit for victory but to

CORNY HOW BIG A CROP?

The Department of Agriculture has been saying right along that there is no cause for apprehension that the rearmament program will cause a food shortage. Now it is changing that tune a little. It has just issued a report to the effect that production of some vital food and livestock feed crops this year may fall considerably short of needs. It indicates special concern over corn.

When the experts come up with their forecasts, bright or gloomy, who is to challenge them? But cursory examination of the figures reveals that the 1951 goal, 3,500,000,000 bushels, is high. Only once in all its history has the nation produced a crop of that size. That was in 1948 when farmers harvested 3,682,000,000 bushels of corn.

Here are some more interesting statistics: The department says that the acreage farmers are now planning to put in corn will produce only 3,050,000,000 bushels at relatively high average yields per acre. However, though it has been aiming at getting 90,000,000 acres planted to corn, the prospective acreage of 85,694,000 is 1,324,000 acres above 1950. And the yield last year was approximately 3,200,000,000 bushels.

It is also true that a 3,050,000,000 crop is quite formidable. There have been only three crops in history that have exceeded that total by as much as 250,000,000 bushels. And in the years 1939-1943 inclusive there was only one that saw a yield of more than 3,000,000,000 bushels.

All this may not add up to a refutation of the department's report. It's reasonable to believe that the demand for meat will stimulate the demand for corn, as predicted, and cause a relative shortage. But the expected results should be blamed on the supply. If it reaches expectations, it will be large.

MINIMIZING WAR DANGER

Those who have been seeking assurance that war is not imminent, may find it in the news that the Cunard Line has just sent its great new liner, the Caronis, on a cruise around the world without incident. The cruise was not made without a careful study of the world situation.

The Cunard Line is old and conservative and would not have risked the great ship or the safety of its passengers and crew without first having determined that no danger was involved in the venture.

European nations are carrying on intensive campaigns to promote tourist business. Dr. Herbert A. Wilkinson, chief of the travel branch of the U. S. Department of Commerce, says there will be a great increase in foreign travel, a situation that would hardly exist if world affairs were shaping for war.

All these activities are based upon what must be assurance that war is not to come, and that an American citizen may go to any foreign land of his choice without fear of the consequences.

Petitions Court For A Change of Name

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 31—President Judge Hiram H. Keller has set Tuesday, June 5th as the hearing date in the Court of Common Pleas for William Patrick Smith, Johnsville Naval Air Development Center, for a change of name. The petition, filed in the Prothonotary's Office, alleges the petitioner, a Conellsville, RD 2, Fayette county, wants his name changed to William Patrick Moran, Jr., because he contemplates matrimony here. The petitioner, the son of William P. and Glenna Alice Moran, avers that his father assumed the name of Frank Smith shortly after the petitioner's birth Nov. 18, 1929. Because of his service record, birth certificate and other data, the petitioner is often annoyed with the interchange of names. His name has been entered in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Harrisburg, as William P. Smith.

Advice for Troubled Times

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

IN these days when we parents are beset with increasing fears and anxieties because of the threats of war and when our children also are encumbered with these hampering emotions, we might well consider the help to be had from fervent worship of Almighty God.

We worship Him in prayer, song and meditation. We praise His holy name. We express to Him our gratitude. Our thoughts and hearts turn to Him as the giver of all we have, as the source of our very life and being. We confess to Him our transgressions and beg Him to forgive us.

Although we sometimes pray to God for wholly selfish things, we also pray for personal skill and wisdom in order to be useful to other people. At last, in worship we turn our thoughts and hearts away from ourselves. Feeling our own smallness and weakness, we put our trust in God and lean upon His everlasting arms. Thus, in worship we may find relief from the jitters, fears and anxieties which beset us.

Worship Anywhere

We can worship anywhere at any time by dwelling on the goodness and loving kindness of our Heavenly Father, through our vocal or silent words, through our conscious or vague feelings of reverence and gratitude, however brief, toward Him. We can worship in various ways among our loved ones of the family at home or elsewhere. We can worship in a public place, as in a church. While the presence of other persons can sometimes divert our worship thoughts and feelings, there's usually something about worshipping with others that enriches our spiritual experiences. We can gain in peace of mind and inner security from church worship.

There's something very quieting about most religious services at church. The music there we hear or sing, the prayers we hear or join in saying, the scriptures we hear read and interpreted and, as a rule, the sermon, contribute together to an atmosphere of serenity.

Some churches, especially in large cities, are always open into those some persons go at any time to pray silently or to sit and meditate. It certainly is a good mental health practice, while also being excellent spiritual exercise.

What I'm trying to say is that religious worship is, in my humble judgment as a psychologist, the greatest means for helping us parents and our children find relief from the jitters, fears and anxieties which beset us.

Of course, I know a few of my readers don't believe this, and such is their privilege. But those who do believe in God as the Father of us all may, through practicing worship more often and more fervently, gain increasing peace of mind and cultivate an atmosphere for better mental health for their children and for their neighbors, even for their fellow men around the world.

"... And He Rode Off in All Directions."

he able also to blame MacArthur for reverses, was emphasized by an ambiguous statement from Secretary Marshall that MacArthur's right to cross the 38th Parallel was limited only by "the necessity to safeguard the security of his command."

Fourth: The American State Department which walked out on its promises to Nationalist China because it said it couldn't tolerate the graft, found it necessary to clean its own house in Hong Kong. Reason? Graft by one of its employees!

Fifth: On the heels of nationwide protest over the suppression of the last free-speech newspaper in Argentina, Secretary of State Acheson made a speech in which he urged closer "cooperation" among the "brotherhood" of "American republics" (words in quotations are those he used in his talk) — including among these good neighbors and so-called "republics" the despotic dictatorship of Argentina where, dominated by Nazi refugees, a tyrannical one-family government has just ripped off the last tongue capable of speaking on behalf of freedom.

Can anyone possibly digest that accumulation of mingled news and propaganda and find out where this nation is headed or what its rulers stand for?

Cornwells Heights Miss Is Wed To Philadelphian

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Mar. 31.—An early spring wedding took place this morning at the hour of ten in St. Charles' R. C. church when Miss Elizabeth M. Maliszewski, daughter of Mr. Alexander Maliszewski, was united in matrimony to Mr. Francis Stricker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stricker, Philadelphia. The Rev. John L. Nugent officiated.

Escorted to the flower-decked altar by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in white slipper satin, fashioned along princess lines. The gown had a regal neckline, pointed collar, fitted bodice with buttons in front, and long tapered sleeves. The skirt, entrain, featured box pleats in the back. A chapel length veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap studded with mother of pearl beads. White satin slippers were worn, and the bride carried a white prayer book on which reposed a white orchid.

Miss Dorothy Maliszewski, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a creation of lilac tone bengaline, styled with a high neckline, small collar, cape sleeves, with pearls down the front of the fitted bodice to a gathered waistline, which was surrounded by a sash of violet. The skirt was long and full. Slippers of violet satin, white gloves and a violet Juliet cap with clusters of blossoms at the sides were worn. She carried a colonial bouquet of violets.

The bridesmaids were Miss Irene Maliszewski, another sister of the bride, and Miss Helen Smith, Philadelphia. They wore costumes of lilac bengaline with close fitting necklines, cape sleeves, fitted bodices, long full skirts with buckram underskirts. Wide sashes, cape and satin slippers were of violet. White gloves were worn.

Mr. John Troutman, Philadelphia, served as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Frank Gallagher and Robert J. Swoboda, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Jennie Borowski, Philadelphia rendered vocal selections. The organist was Mrs. R. McCarthy, Andalusia.

The former Miss Maliszewski selected for her wedding trip to Florida a suit of tan gabardine, alligator handbag and matching slippers, white blouse, small white straw hat and white gloves. She wore the veil from her bridal bouquet.

A reception was arranged in St. Charles' hall with 250 attending. The bride presented lapel pins to her attendants. The bridegroom's gifts to the best man and ushers were wallets.

Mrs. Stricker, Jr., is a graduate of Nazareth Academy, Torrence, Pa. Stricker graduated from St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia. The newlyweds will reside at 3308 Ashville street, Philadelphia.

Wise Shopping Is Discussed for Women

ive of the consumer, cited "what has emerged as a pattern from a group of militant women who have studied the subject." She added that "We women don't realize our power as a group." The consumer movement, with "concerted demand on the part of the women for the right to know what they are buying" was given considerable attention. At this point, Mrs. Hammond reminded that "great grandmother was a manufacturer. She made her own light candles, and wove material from sheep's wool, but later the women had to let go of the quality control when their goods were made by others." She mentioned briefly how the trust of women was not too well met by some manufacturers and merchants, and how in more recent years there has been an attempt to formulate standards.

"If you must save money you must spend more of your time and energy to do so. But if you have sufficient money, some one else can expend the time and energy to aid you. You have your choice."

Citing one instance, Mrs. Hammond reminded how women "voted" at the retail counter for sanitized goods, with the result that now 85% of the house dresses on the market bear such label. "Manufacturers and dealers depend on your acceptance or rejection of articles," she added. The women were urged to learn about the goods they buy.

"There is such a wealth of material on the market today. When you are disatisfied with a piece of merchandise, take it back—not to the sales girl but to the service manager."

When you take back a piece of defective material you help three people—yourself, the store and the manufacturer.

The club was extended an invitation to visit the testing laboratory where Mrs. Hammond is located.

Poems read by Mrs. Boswell and vocal solo by Mrs. Thomas Doron were enjoyed. The latter were: "Alice Blue Gown," "The Wren," and "Bless This House." Mrs. J. J. Korz was the accompanist. For group singing of "God Bless America," Mrs. Harry T. Neher was pianist.

Presiding officer was Mrs. John A. Meyer, vice president. She called upon Mrs. Michael A. Harritty for minutes of the last session; then asked for report of the nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Roy Tracy, Mrs. Paul Forster, and Mrs. Neher. The nominees are: President, Mrs. Robert D. Brooks; 1st vice president, Mrs. Paul V. Forster; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Weik; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dorrance Morris; treasurer, Mrs. Donald Meyer. Election is scheduled for the annual meeting on April 13th, at which session annual reports will also be presented.

Two new members were introduced, Mrs. A. E. Lewis and Mrs. Everett S. Worth.

It was announced that the club will have 15 donors when the "Bloodmobile" visits Bristol next week. A plea was made for funds for new books to be sent to Japanese libraries. Mrs. Neher informed that the Red Cross fund drive is "failing dismally," and urged all to give additional funds if possible. This afternoon club members will canvass Bristol Terrace II for funds, that area having no solicitors named.

Resignations of Mrs. Harris Bruner and Mrs. George Bennett were accepted with regret.

Named as auditors are Mrs. Horace H. Burton and Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes.

Decision was made to forward the scrap book made by club members to Japan. This book contains pictures and information on a true American home.

Recipes were distributed by Mrs. Walter W. Pitzonka; and appreciation was expressed by Mrs. Earl Tomb on behalf of members, for the enjoyable banquet marking the club's golden anniversary.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Warren P. Snyder and Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley.
